GUARD OFFICERS VISIT CAMP SITE

Steps taken to secure National Guard Encampment for this Summer. Gettysburg will have to compete with Erie and Selinsgrove.

Active steps are being taken by the newly organized Board of Trade, a body which supercedes the defunct Merchants Association, to secure the National Guard encampment this summer. Members of the Board have for some time been in correspondence with the officers of the Guard and as a result of this correspondence a committee of officers registered at the Hotel Gettysburg Friday night and were this morning taken to view a site which may be available for the encampment.

Members of the officers committee who viewed the ground: Brigadier, the Adjutant General Stewart, Chief of Staff; Major General Dougherty, Division Commander; Brigadier General Price, Commander of the 1st Brigade and Major L. V. Rausch, Quartermaster and keeper of the State Arsenal, are all well known in Gettysburg. It is believed these men are favorably disposed to a Gettysburg encampment provided the advantages to be secured here in any manner approach those offered by several other towns.

It will be recalled that the War Department issued a statement through the Battlefield Commission, forbidding any further encampments of state troops upon ground owned by the national government, directly after the encampment held here two years ago. No little trouble was encountered in securing permission to use government land at that time.

At least 220 acres are required for the encampment. Tents will occupy about 120 acres space and there must be a parade ground, in some degree level, of 100 acres or more. Securing this amount of land, outside of that owned by the government, had not been seriously considered before this time. Several sites west of town that would answer the purpose have been located by local workers but provided the officers committee should decide to accept any of these sites there is no assurance that the owners of ground would permit it to be used.

In this, as in all other efforts to secure events for the town, Gettysburg is handicapped by her lack of money. During an interview with a Times representative this morning Major Rausch said "Your town has the decided advantages in that everyone wants to come to Gettysburg, wants to see the battlefield; but you must remember that other towns are offering to pay all expenses in connection with securing and preparing grounds for the encampment." "The location of the site offered must be considered as well as the facilities for securing water and supplies." The committee of officers has already visited Selinsgrove and will next go to Erie. Citizens of Erie have offered $15000, available at any time, for preparing grounds for the camp. It is understood, however, that their only means of furnishing water would be digging an artesian well on the camp site. Selinsgrove offers probably the best camp site and has an ample supply of good water but does not have any large amount of money to offer.

No decision will be made until ground at Erie has been viewed. Members of the Board of Trade with the guard officials left the hotel at an early hour this morning and made a thorough inspection of the land suggested. Before leaving for Harrisburg this afternoon the committee admitted that the site shown them could be used but would give no assurance that Gettysburg will be their choice in preference to the other towns mentioned.

COLD STORAGE PLANT INSTALLED

Otteneimer Brothers, of Baltimore, are installing a cold storage plant at the Eagle Hotel. The plant is designed to be of sufficient capacity for any busy seasons that may be encountered. The frame work is of steel, with a coating of cement, a three inch insulation of cork and an outer coat of cement. It is divided into four compartments: one for cut meats, one for butter, milk and eggs, one for vegetables and a room of 14 x 14 feet for storage of the larger pieces of meat. This will enable the hotel to purchase supplies when a favorable quality is offered and insure better food during the poor seasons when it is hard to secure fresh products in Gettysburg. The plant will also be equipped for manufacturing ice but Proprietor Everhart does not expect to put this part to use during the coming summer.

DANCING at the Armory tonight. Gentlemen 25 cents, ladies 10 cents.

FINE hycianths at Cremer's Saturday.

ICE COMPANY IS IN GOOD CONDITION

Report to Stockholders at Annual Meeting shows up well. Improvements Made during Year. More Ground Acquired.

At the annual stockholder's meeting of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company, held recently the company was shown to be in a very prosperous condition. The board of directors was increased from five to seven members. Manager Charles B. Dougherty was chosen as one of the new members.

Manager Dougherty's report showed a favorable increase in gross business over any former year in the company's history. This is somewhat remarkable in view of the few visitors to the town during the past Summer, and would appear to express the people's commendation of a public service corporation. Prospective enlargement has made it necessary to acquire additional ground since the last annual report. One plot of 35 feet frontage adjoining the Western Maryland railroad along the Western Maryland railroad was purchased from Capt. Calvin Gilbert. An agreement with the Bottling company was arranged whereby their building was moved on to this plot and the Storage company is now in possession of a 35 foot lot directly adjoining its present buildings. This will enable it to extend such buildings as the growing business necessitates. A small additional piece of ground, affording a more commodious outlet to the public street, was also recently purchased.

Improvements to the plant consist of the installation of an extra boiler, which insures continuous service of the power system; new and additional ice cream freezers and a brick enclosure for the entire engine room. The brick enclosure of the engine room safeguards the plant from the danger of fire and reduces the insurance premium some eighty dollars a year. The acquisition of this additional space and the renovation of the plant has received during the winter places the company in a position to handle any natural increased demand without a handicap that would otherwise have been keenly felt.

The board of directors elected for the ensuing year consists of J. L. Butt, president; E. M. Bender, secretary; Charles B. Dougherty, treasurer and general manager; William B. McIlhenny, W. Lavre Hafer, Charles H. Huber and C. Wm. Beales.

QUIETUS PUT ON EAST BERLIN TROLLEY RUMOR

Reports that the York Railways Company is projecting a spur from its Dover line to East Berlin were officially denied Friday, although it is learned that residents in that part of the county are preparing petitions in an effort to have the line extended.

Some time ago the York Railway company made an investigation of the territory and decided that the population which could be reached scarcely justified the extension, which made a spur about eight miles long, it started from Hillton on the Dover line through Weiglestown. It is the hope of those in charge of the petitions that they can convince the York Railways company to the contrary. Rights of way are, it is said, being offered.

The engineering problems of the extension are slight, it was stated at the office yesterday, and as the company is always ready to build lines when it can be convinced that they will pay, this one may some day be undertaken if the petitions are sufficiently convincing.

NEWSPAPER WORK EXCITING AT DILLSBURG

An attempt to injure or probably kill William Elicker, manager and editor of the Dillsburg Bulletin, was made last evening while Mr. Elicker was in his place of business setting type. He heard a commotion outside his office, but paid no attention to it until a huge stone, weighing about fifteen pounds, was cast through the plate glass window and struck the case at which he was working.

GIFT TO HIGH SCHOOL

Gettysburg High School was presented with a very pretty library table Friday afternoon by one of the former teachers, Miss Annie Hake. ## LOCAL DEALERS SELL AUTOMOBILES

Eighteen 1912 Models already Sold by Town Dealers. Business has been good throughout the Winter. All Expect to Make Improvements.

Activity in the automobile business has continued throughout the winter at a brisk rate for Gettysburg. There are reported about seventy cars owned in town. Eighteen 1912 models have been delivered by the three local dealers and several purchases have been made away from town. The Gettysburg Motor Car Co. reports selling nine of this year's models. The Crescent Auto Co. has sold six cars and The Central Automobile Co. which has only been in operation for the past few months has sold three machines. The Gettysburg Motor Car Co. handles the E. M. F., Flanders, Ford and Maxwell The Crescent and Central Companies each sell but one make, the Overland and the Brush. Deliveries of cars that have not been previously mentioned are: Charles S. Duncan, Esq., a new Pullman touring car; Allan Deardorff, an Overland roadster; John D. Lippy, a four passenger car; and Dr. W. H. O'Neal a Flanders runabout.

All of the town dealers are planning additions to their places of business. George Everhart of the Gettysburg Motor Car Co. says they intend to extend their building to the rear of the lot at their present location. W. F. Codori of the Central Company anticipates enlarging both his storage and repair departments.

Clarence Redding of the Crescent Company is expecting a visit from C. J. Spalding, who owns the building occupied by his company, with a view to settling upon repair for this season. All report a busy winter with repair work. Many of last season's cars have been overhauled and repaired. In addition to the automobiles quite a number of motor cycles are owned by residents of town and this end of the business begins to assume proportions. Although some prospects are in line the dealers seem to think the sale end is about over for this season. They are inclined to believe that the man who does not buy during April will likely wait for next year's models to appear on the market.

ZIMMERMAN--FRUIT

The Harrisburg Telegraph says: "Miss Minnie A. Fruit, of Gettysburg, and Peter S. Zimmerman, of New Cumberland, were united in marriage Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Maurice King, by the Rev. H. P. Aston. Following the ceremony a supper was served and Mr. Zimmerman took his bride to his farm in Fairview township, where they will reside."

SUCH CUTUPS AT CHAMBERSBURG

(From the Public Opinion.) On Thursday Wilson Walrick had a number of his friends guessing as to whether he was exhibiting a sand stone or a petrified potato. He told them it was the latter and they all believed him until he left them examining it closely. It happened to be a sand stone, but its resemblance to a potato was so striking that the difference could not be detected without handling it.

NEW BUILDINGS THIS SUMMER

Unusually Cold Weather and Condition of Ground Prevents Start of Operations. Number of Buildings to be Started as soon as Conditions Permit.

Despite the numerous building operations of the past few years this season promises to equal former records. An unusual number of people are contemplating the erection of dwellings, and at least one manufacturing plant will be built as soon as the weather permits continued work in the open. Contractors and masons generally have been complaining of the severe winter and lack of indications for an early Spring. They say that other years they have had several buildings under way during the first part of March. A temperature that alternately freezes and thaws will throw masonry out of plumb and owners will not take the risk of having their foundations disturbed.

Among those who are making arrangements for different buildings are: Hotel Gettysburg, extension of building towards Western Maryland station and additional interior improvements of old building.

Gettysburg Furniture Company, an account of which was given in The Times on Tuesday.

A. M. E. Zion church on Washington street is agitating a new building provided arrangements for the completion of the work can be made.

Spangler and Oyler, a new double dwelling house on York street.

C. S. Reaser, a new residence on York street.

Franklin Rudisill, a new house on Lincoln avenue.

Charles Stallsmith, a dwelling on North Stratton street.

William Henry, new house on Hanover street.

Harry Walters, new house on Hanover street.

John Warner, double stone house on Baltimore street, south of Episcopal church.

Prof. H. Milton Roth, a new house on Broadway.

E. S. Kelley will renovate that section of the Swape property on York street, which he recently purchased from O. F. Benner. He also intends to erect a back building.

Many additions and repairs of less importance than those mentioned are planned. With the steady demand for labor at the St. James Lutheran church and the new post office building few people need be out of work.

OUTLAWS' LEADER CAUGHT AT HOME

His Wife Slain in Battle With Detectives.

TWO WOMEN AMONG DEAD

Head of Outlaw Gang That Shot Up Court at Hillsville Tracked to His Home—Search Kept Up For Slayers.

Barren Springs, Va., March 15.—The whole might of the commonwealth of Virginia is girding to bring to justice the band of lawless mountaineers who "shot up" the court house at Hillsville, Carroll county, fifteen miles from here, and killed Judge Thornton Massie, District Attorney W. M. Foster, Sheriff Lewis Webb and a juror, C. C. Kane. But it is going to be a huge task and whether it will ever be thoroughly accomplished no one can tell.

Detectives arrested Sidney Allen, ringleader of the gang. Wounded in the leg, he was lying at his home in the hills.

As the detectives approached the house the desperado's wife opened fire upon them, shooting through a window. Returning the fire, the detectives rushed upon the building. When they opened the door the woman was lying on the floor dead, with several bullets in her body, and Sidney Allen was on the bed.

Helpless, despite his plight, the outlaw tried to resist arrest. He was taken to Hillsville and placed in jail.

Back of the mountains—where there are literally thousands of fastnesses unknown to any, save the hardy mountaineers themselves—"the Allens"—leaders of the outlaws, and their followers are hiding. As one oldtimer says: "It 'ud take a regiment to catch them fellows after they gets in hiding up there." He pointed to the blue peaks in the distance. "And what's more, I don't like you-all's job. Them fellows is fighting men."

But nothing daunted Virginia means to "catch" the murderers if it is in the power of the state, through police, detectives or even troops can do it.

The desperate mountaineers have announced that they will never be taken alive and being well-armed with modern revolvers and rifles, there is imminent prospect of another terrific tragedy enacted in the ravines and pockets of the Blue Mountain range in southwest Virginia where the numerous posses now led by Attorney General Williams come upon them.

Twenty-five detectives reached Hillsville to lead in the pursuit of the gang. Assisted by posses the detectives will scour the entire section penetrating the Blue Ridge in every direction. The outlaws, for the most part, are possibly now well within the wild mountainous regions of western North Carolina. Some, it is known Mount Alary, just over the line in North Carolina, where they are said to have raided a hardware store and secured a new supply of arms and ammunition.

A semblance of order followed the arrival of the detectives all heavily as state officers. One of their first acts was to take into custody Floyd Allen, leader of the Allen desperadoes, who was wounded in the court room fighting and left behind by his brothers. As he was being locked up Allen attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He was disarmed before he could accomplish his purpose.

Allen's son, Victor, rode into Hillsville armed to the teeth, to guard his father and he, too, is under arrest, with a man named Strickland. Victor Allen and Strickland were found hiding in a house in Hillsville. Both were captured without serious resistance, although it was said they at first indicated an impulse to shoot their way to liberty.

A strong force of men, all well armed, has been placed in an about the jail with orders to shoot to kill at the first sign of any indication of trouble.

Betty Ayres, one of the few women who were in court during the shooting and who was wounded, died.

Stimulated by the reward, scores of private detectives left Cincinnati for the scene.

The impression is gained from maneuvers in the mountains during the night that the feudists may have reinforced to the strength of a hundred men. If this proves to be the true situation it will not be surprising if state militia are hurried to the mountains.

AIDS FIGHT FOR LEWIS

Colored Lawyer of Minneapolis Member of Bar Association.

Washington, March 16.—Attorney General Wickersham's protest against the ousting of Assistant Attorney General William H. Lewis, colored, from membership in the American Bar association has brought forth a letter from a Minneapolis lawyer declaring that a colored lawyer of that city is a member of the association.

The letter says that the colored attorney was elected to membership at the Boston meeting of the association last year, despite the assertion of George W. Whitelock, secretary of the association, in a letter to the attorney general that no person of a race other than white had held membership in the body.

The Minneapolis writer added that the attorney attended the meetings and dinners of the Minnesota State Bar association.

The attorney general requested Mr. Whitelock to confirm or correct the statement. Mr. Wickersham is fighting for his assistant, because he believes his expulsion was illegal.

PLANS FOR TAFT'S NEW ENGLAND TRIP

Will Leave Tomorrow Night For Boston.

Washington, March 16.—The final arrangements for President Taft's trip to Boston and New Hampshire were made at the White House. The president will leave Washington tomorrow night, arriving in Boston early Monday morning.

Nine engagements, including breakfast with the mayor and city officials, an address to the Massachusetts legislature, and a review of St. Patrick's Day parade, will make the president's day in Boston a busy one.

Mr. Taft will pass the night in Boston and leave for New Hampshire on Tuesday morning. He will speak in Nassau, Manchester and Concord. Returning to Boston Tuesday night, he will drop in at the banquet of the New England Street Railway club.

Leaving Boston on Tuesday night, he is due in Washington Wednesday morning.

ROOSEVELT WINS OKLAHOMA

Ten Delegates-at-Large Instructed For the Colonel.

Guthrie, Okla., March 16.—At the end of an all-night session, the Oklahoma Republican convention voted to send a solid delegation-at-large of ten men instructed for Theodore Roosevelt to the Chicago convention.

Taft workers employed every means to get in a commanding voice in the proceedings. Outnumbered almost two to one, they failed.

Just as the close of the arduous work, S. S. Denning, of Lexington, a delegate, fell dead. Excitement resulted in apoplexy.

The present lineup of national delegates from Oklahoma is twelve for Roosevelt and four for Taft. Two of the latter probably will be contested. Two congressional districts are still to elect two delegates each.

REDUCING WAGES

Grand Trunk Employees in Michigan Talk Strike.

Detroit, Mich., March 16.—Conductors, brakemen and baggage men employed on Michigan branch lines of the Grand Trunk have received notice that on April 1 their wages will be reduced to the scale of 1911.

This will mean a cut of $30 to $50 a month in some cases. The employees say a strike is probable if the company enforces the order.

Child Fatally Cuts Herself.

Johnstown, Pa., March 16.—While playing about her mother's dress the three-year-old daughter of Harry Dobson, of Lincoln township, Somerset county, ran against a butcher knife. Mrs. Dobson was using. An artery was severed in her neck and the child bled to death.

To the Public:

When it was suggested that I take the management of the North Bay Counties Exhibit Cars from California, I answered I WOULD ON CERTAIN CONDITIONS, namely, that they furnish the FINEST EXHIBIT CARS ever sent out by any other section before, with its own electric light plant, so we could exhibit evenings as well as in the day time, and gather their WONDERFUL PRODUCTS from their orchards, vineyards and ranches, put up by experts, so it would be a "WONDER" itself, and secure a Marine Museum and Curiosities from ALL OVER THE WORLD, so the OLD and YOUNG, RICH and POOR, EDUCATED and ILITERATE could visit and spend hours profitably.

They have done so, and I extend an invitation to all, knowing that we have the most original, new and UP-TO-DATE EXHIBIT ever brought to your city, and a perfect system of conveying the public to the fact that our five counties contain more inducements for the Home-seeker and the Tourist looking for a perfect climate and beautiful scenery. COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF what we are doing.

We make a small charge of 25 cents for admission, to help defray expenses and enable us to give valuable souvenirs suggestive of California—something all will keep to remember us by.

Yours very respectfully,
M. LEAK.

Manager North of Bay Counties Exhibit Cars.

WE DO NOT SELL LAND, but we want to interest you in our section of the Golden State.

Will exhibit March 21, 22 and 23, at Philadelphia & Reading station between the hours of 8:30 a. m., and 9:30 p. m. Admission, adults 25c, children under 15 years 15c.

MINERS REJECT OPERATORS OFFER

The Negotiations Are Abruptly Broken Off.

A STRIKE SEEMS CERTAIN

Operators Issue Statement Reiterating Their First Offer—Miners to Suspend Work April 1.

New York, March 16.—The developments in the negotiations between the committee of ten of the anthracite operators and the representatives of the miners were purely formal, but significant nevertheless.

Each side reasserted its position in much the same terms as have been used before. The representatives of the miners gave out a statement in reply to the last previous statement issued by the operators, firmly refusing to yield an inch of ground.

At the meeting Mr. White read the statement which he had just issued to the operators. The latter had no comment to make about it, and the miners withdrew, leaving the operators in the council chamber.

Operators' Statement.

The operators went into conference. A statement by the operators was issued in answer to the statement of the miners. The statement, after saying that the mine workers declined to modify their demands, refers to the findings of the strike commission and declares that nothing was advanced in the conferences of 1906 and 1909 to cast doubt upon the wisdom of the award, and no new condition is now brought forward, nor have the facts and issues then covered since been changed.

"The operators," the statement continues, "have always stated, and again assured the mine workers' committee that they were ready to meet them and to give consideration to any suggestion urged by them."

"While it is conceded," the statement proceeds, "that the cost of living has increased, it must be remembered that the advance in wages awarded to the mine workers by the strike commission was based upon the existing conditions here."

The statement briefly reviews these conditions and concludes as follows: "We again emphasize the statement that it is impossible for the operators to advance wages unless they can in some manner realize from the sale of the coal produced a sum equal to the increase in the wages. It is not possible to increase the price of the steam sizes on account of competition of bituminous coal, and it does not seem fair and there would appear nothing in the condition of the mine workers to warrant the advance in the price to the public."

Miners Reject Proposal.

The miners' officials, headed by John T. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, say in their official reply that they regret the position taken by the operators. They refer to the conditions of living as warranting wage advances, there having been a change in the prices of food since the last award was made. There has been no increase in wages since the award went into effect, the miners insist. They refer to their hazardous occupation and to the number of men killed or injured in the mines annually. From 1899 to 1910, the miners declare, 12,368 men have been injured in the hard coal fields, the total of killed and injured in the same period being given as 18,921.

There are now approximately 180,000 anthracite miners. The anthracite men say there is "no reason why they should work longer than the bituminous miners," who enjoy an eight-hour day. The hard coal miners work nine hours. The workers in the hard coal fields, their officials told the operators, have become thoroughly convinced that they cannot protect their interests under terms of any contract unless their organization is "fully recognized."

The conference was the third of its kind to be held between the operators and the miners. The assumption all along has been that it would be the last. No further conference has been arranged for, and both sides have refused to go beyond the limits of their formal statements in talking about the possibilities of future negotiations. No strike order needs to be sent out. As things stand the strike will automatically go on at midnight of March 31.

As the miners' representatives were leaving the conference room at the Trust Line offices George F. Baer said to them: "We shall be glad to meet on gentlemen again at any time."

President White, of the miners' union, said that negotiations were ended. He explained that nothing had happened at the meeting except the reading of the miners' statement, and that as nobody had anything more to say a motion to adjourn was in order, and the conference closed. No date was set for another meeting and nobody spoke of the possibility of a further conference. President White said, however, that it needn't be assumed necessarily that there would be no further negotiations. More than that he would not say.

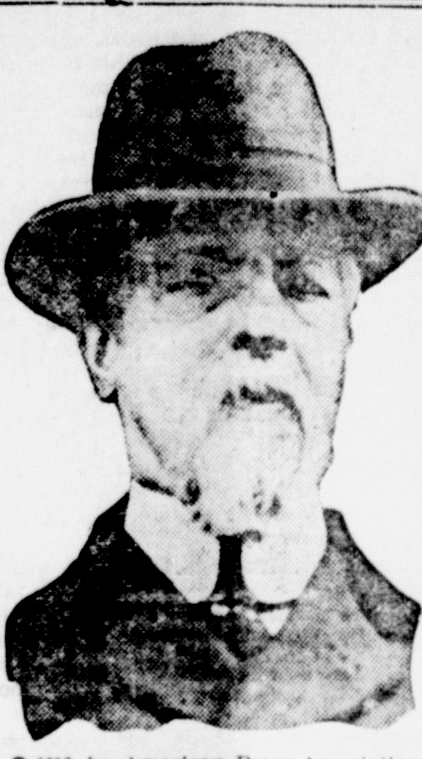

The scale committee of the miners, after a talk at the hotel, decided that the next move was up to the operators, and that until some definite communications should be forthcoming from the mine owners they would keep mum.

VISION TOLD HIM TO KILL THE KING

Anarchist Prefers Death to "Slow Agony."

Rome, March 16.—Reiterating to the police that he was an individual anarchist and that he had no accomplices, Antonio Dalba said:

"A vision ordered me to kill the king. Several times I might have done so, but I waited, having decided to attempt his life only when he was surrounded by his bodyguard. I have no sweethearts, as love weakens a man, while I wish to be strong. I am not a drinker and I do not like wine. My first shot at the king would have been all right, but the cartridge did not explode."

Dalba has refused to take nourishment, saying: "Better death than slow agony," referring to his imprisonment.

Major Giovanni Langa, commander of the royal bodyguard, who was wounded when Dalba attempted to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel, is considered by his physicians to be almost out of danger. He is suffering from an affection of the eyesight, due to the fragment of his helmet which penetrated his skull, pressing on the optic nerve.

The revolver used by Dalba is a costly and formidable weapon, a foot in length. Dalba said he had found it in a moment of repentance the young anarchist said he regretted the occurrence on account of his mother.

SUFFERING SPREADS

More Than 4,000,000 Affected Now by British Strike.

London, March 16.—While Premier Asquith and the committees representing the striking coal miners and operators hold their conferences without making any appreciable progress, the suffering throughout the country increases hourly.

More than 4,000,000 persons are already affected by the strike and every organized relief fund is hard pressed taking care of its dependents. The miners themselves in communities where they can make good terms with the owners are becoming restless, and there is not a quick change in the situation many are likely to desert their main body and return to work.

In the Weekly Pioneer, Kier Hardie, the Socialist leader, commenting on the absence of disorder, says: "This shows how complete the discipline among the miners is and how worthy they were of enlistment in the first great battle for human emancipation. It is desirable that this discipline unity be maintained to the end."
